San Francisco.

The Election—Interesting to William Hinkle & Co.—Miss Hinkle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—All the Judges in office, both Democrats and Republicans, are re-elected in this city by large majorities, except Sharpstein, defeated by Dangerfield for the Twelfth District Court.

Returning from the interior show Carr ahead of Fitzgerald for Superintendent of Public Schools. The contest between Fitzgerald and Carr was very hot. A former partner of Fitzgerald published a card positively charging that Fitzgerald received $3,000 from Wilson, Hinkle & Co., Cincinnati, book publishers, while he was Superintendent of Public Schools before. Carr & Co. were agents for the sale of school books for that firm. Fitzgerald is a clergyman of the Methodist Church in Santa, and noted for political tendencies. He circulated to-day at the polls, calling God to witness that he is innocent.

He has probably lost votes, the general opinion being that Carr, the Republican candidate, is elected.

CITY EDITION.

New York.

The Real Estate Depression—A Swindler Caught—A Champion Scull-Letter from Dr. Hayes—Extensive Swindling Operation.

New York, October 21.—The Daily Graphic, in an article on the depression of the real estate market, says the sale of Griffith Daves' and other property to-day simply means that thousands of persons who suppose they were rich are now to-day penniless. For two years real estate dealers have unimproved in the cheapest quarters of New York has fallen in value more than one-half.

Insurance companies and savings banks, as well as private capitalists, have on their hands assets which are unsalable, and upon which they have advanced more money than the property would bring in open market. This is the culmination of the panic of 1873, and from this time forth we may expect to see forced sales of unimproved real estate at ruinous prices.

We give below the figures reached to-day at the sale on the Real Estate Exchange this morning. The sale of 128 lots in the upper part of the city was commenced at the Exchange salesrooms. The bidding was slow, and the first lot, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, was sold for $40,000, a mortgage of $30,000 to remain. Lot 3, adjoining on Fifth avenue, was sold to H. Newhall, of San Francisco, for $25,000, subject to a mortgage of $17,500. This gentleman was also purchaser of No. 4, for $25,000, with mortgage of $10,000. The auctioneer then sold lot on Fifth avenue 70 feet 5 inches south of Eighty-eighth street, on which there is a mortgage of $30,000, to Mr. Newhall for $20,000. Total amount of Mr. Daves' property sold to-day foots up $643,455.

Joseph Schmidt and Charles Jost, merchants, of Philadelphia, who, among others, have been victims of a huge swindle by Frederick Falla, who gave them alleged worthless notes for sale to the amount of $100,000, and who have been tracing the goods and canvassing the country for the swindler, arrested him at Warren, Pa., and lodged him in jail.

Thirty thousand dollars' worth of property was found with his brother-in-law, named Reibel, in Brooklyn.

The single scull boat race for $1,000 and the amateur championship of America, between Wilbur Bacon, of Yale, and R. B. Bainbridge, of New York, took place yesterday. The distance was three miles. Betting was $100 to $75 on Bainbridge, but at the start it was $100 to $50 on Bacon. Bacon won by two feet. Time, 16:30.

The Herald this morning publishes a long letter from Dr. J. J. Hayes, the well-known Arctic explorer, in which he expresses his belief in the existence of an open Polar sea, and regrets that the Pandora, which has just returned to England, did not winter there and renew search for records on Sir John Franklin's expedition in the spring.

He believed this could only be accomplished by passing the winter there, and pursuing the search in the spring with sledges. He says he believes now, as he has always believed since his first voyage there, that in the vicinity of the Pole there is an open navigable sea in the summer; that it may be reached by ship or boat by way of Smith's Sound, and that the North pole is in the reach of any nation that will think it worth while to spend money enough to get to it. Included in the letter are some interesting reminiscences of previous voyages of himself and others.

The Sun this morning publishes an article stating that Edmund Henderson, a merchant of Water street, has been kidnapped, and sailed on Thursday under the name of J. S. Butler for Havana. On Thursday last Henderson transferred his business, before leaving, to the charge of an assignee.

His book-keeper, learning the state of affairs, surrendered himself to the police, and centered under a series of interrogatories during the past two years, amounting to many thousands of dollars. His story was confirmed yesterday when Daniel S. Robert, tea merchant, of Philadelphia, the only person whose signature Henderson forged, made a charge of forgery against Jost, the book-keeper.

He was held in $2,500 bail.

It is said the persons who will suffer most is C. B. Krosgaard, note broker of Wall street. He discounted Henderson's notes without hesitation. His losses, he says, on forged notes will swallow up his entire fortune. As Judge is in jail and no one else understands the books, it is impossible to ascertain how affairs stand. It is believed Henderson has taken home seventy thousand dollars in negotiable paper.

Chicago Notes and News.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The reported sale of the Inter-Ocean to the Tribune is denied in toto by the Inter-Ocean, which claims to be encroaching largely on the business of the Tribune.

A St. Louis dispatch says: Instead of a consolidation of the Vandavia and Indianapolis and St. Louis railroads, as indicated a day or two ago, it has been agreed to pool their net earnings. They will maintain separate organizations, but their net earnings will be divided in proportion to the value of stock and capital employed in running the roads.

Wm. Bond, Receiver of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, and E. Biggs and Jos. H. Stebbins, from Paris, France, representatives of the foreign bond holders, have arrived here for consultation looking to a restoration of the road to the company.

Matters relating to the National Railroad Convention to be held here on the 23d are rapidly approaching completion.

Letters from General Bean and Governor Porter, of Tennessee, Governor Beveridge, of Illinois, Hon. M. C. Kerr, of Indiana, and prominent gentlemen in different parts of the country have been received, all speaking most favorably of the enterprise in view. All railroads centering here will reduce their fare one-half, and it is expected many roads farther away in all parts of the country will do likewise.

Tried to Kill His Son-in-Law.

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 21.—Wm. Heilmann, living three miles south of this city, attempted to take the life of his son-in-law, George Blackwell, by shooting at him with a revolver. The ball grazed his head, and Heilmann, having failed in his first attempt, rushed upon him, and thrusting the revolver in Blackwell's face, again pulled the trigger, but the weapon missed fire. Heilmann has been arrested.

A Convict to Be Hanged.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Elwin Thomas, the negro convict who killed Sheffield, a brother convict, at the State Prison here last June, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Dwight to be hung December 10th. His counsel obtained a stay of proceedings to show that the Court had no jurisdiction to sentence a convict who was already serving out an unexpired term. The point was overruled.

Contested Election Decision.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 21.—The Supreme Court rendered a decision in the case of the contested election in Wood county, reversing the action of the Canvassers in throwing out the vote of Lincoln county, which left a majority of one for the Reform candidate, Judge George W. Cole, on which the Secretary of State gave him a certificate as Congressman elect from the Eighth District, instead of Dr. S. S. McMill, who had a majority of votes.

The election excitement has entirely subsided.

The weather is very favorable to farmers, who are exceedingly busy with their fall work.

The field trial of earth-working implements under the direction of the County Agricultural Society, closed yesterday. Thomas, Ludlow & Rodgers, of this city, were awarded the premium on superior grain drill, superior broadcast seeder and combined Case planter and plows. The Miller and Whitely plows took premiums.

THE POLICE INVESTIGATION.

The Police investigation before Mayor Johnston and Superintendent Snelbaker continued this morning.

The case of Officer Eichelberger was first called.

Mr. J. M. Miley, Dr. W. S. Howe, H. G. Armstrong and H. Nunez were called as witnesses.

Dr. Howe, who was a Clerk of Election, stated that he saw nothing improper upon election-day in the officer's conduct, except that he failed to make some arrests which should have been made.

Mr. Nunez, who was a judge of election, testified that the officer was under the influence of liquor during a part of the day.

Mr. J. Lytle, of the Gift Engine-house, testified that the officer handled one or two persons too roughly, and was evidently under the influence of liquor.

Mr. Krebhiel, of the Gazette, testified as to Officer Eichelberger's conduct at the Station-house, characterizing it as very rude and unbecoming an officer.

Mr. Eichel, of the Gazette, who was arrested by the officer, testified that he (Eichelberger) was drunk and abusive, and that he arrested him without any just cause. Mr. Wolf Cohen testified to the general good conduct of the officer on that day and on all other occasions. He felt certain the officer was not drunk. Several other witnesses testified to the good conduct of the officer, and that he was not drunk.

Lieut. Spaeth testified that the crowd that followed the officer into the Station-house was very abusive, and that Eichelberger only replied as would naturally follow.

Capt. Brady testified that the officer was sober, and only in the discharge of his duty.

The Honor Mayor Johnston, in a few remarks, stated that while the charges were of an indefinite nature and poorly sustained, yet he felt from the testimony that the officer had violated the rules of the force, and that his usefulness had been impaired by his actions. He therefore felt in duty bound to dismiss Officer Eichelberger from the force.

The case of Officer Bourke was called. The charges against him were supposed to be having induced soldiers at the Newport Barracks to come to the city and vote. The charges were published in the Gazette, and were said to have been furnished them by Mr. Schubert, a non-commissioned officer. The names of several persons (soldiers) at the Barracks were given as having voted under Bourke's supervision.

The person said to have given the information did not appear as a witness. Four soldiers who were charged by the Gazette with having voted were present and testified that they were in the city on election day but did not vote.

A. Schubert, who made the principal charges, was not present. The case was again continued until to-morrow at 10 A. M.

Meeting of the Lawrence-Townley Heirs.

The Western Association of the Lawrence-Townley heirs held a meeting this morning at the Walnut Street House. About fifty persons were present, among whom was the Hon. Durbin Ward. Dr. James of Glendale, President of the Executive Committee, acted as Chairman. Letters were read from various parties in St. Louis, Chicago, North Carolina and other parts of the country, who had been invited to be present, but could not accept.

The committee state that they had opened a correspondence with the Gun Agency of London, which movement met with the approval of the association. General Ward being called upon for some remarks, said that he knew very little about the estate, excepting that his wife was a Lawrence, and said to be one of the heirs to this estate. It was his opinion that nobody knew much about it. That there was such an estate consisting of upwards of one hundred million dollars he did not doubt, but it was important to ascertain these facts: First, is there such an estate? Second, who are the heirs? Third, is the estate inheritable upon the Townley side, or the Lawrence side, or upon both? Fourth, how is this money to be got at? He then gave his views upon the subject very briefly, coupling with them some very sound advice to the heirs. He concluded his remarks by saying it was no child's play, but required persevering and patient work to get at these facts, which once established would set the matter at rest.

After some miscellaneous business the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.
